

PVC medical devices have been used safely for over 60 years.

Phthalates of concern can be replaced while keeping the unique technical properties of PVC.

The PVC material is chemically stable and unharmed to patients.

PVC medical devices have undergone strict review by many health agencies around the world.